

Quantification in the Humanities:

A Guided Introduction to Bridging a Disciplinary Gap

Wed 25.06.25, 17:00–18:30

ESA Ost Room 222 and via Zoom

Hybrid Lecture, Myles Lavan, Professor in Ancient History, University of St Andrews:

“Quantification in the History of Slavery: Why We Need a Demography of Manumission”

AKADEMIE DER
WISSENSCHAFTEN
IN HAMBURG

Thu 26.06.25, 10:00–16:00

ESA West Room 209 and via Zoom

Hybrid Workshop, Prof. Myles Lavan and Dr. Alasdair Grant, Research Associate, University of Hamburg:

Pre-Circulated Readings and Participant-Oriented Discussion

Attendance free, refreshments provided Thursday, places limited.

Register by 23.06.25: alasdair.grant@uni-hamburg.de.

Lecture and workshop can be booked separately.

The language of the event will be English.

Convened in conjunction with the Emmy Noether Junior Research Group ‘Social Contexts of Rebellion in the Early Islamic Period’. Generously funded by the Academy of Sciences in Hamburg.